Services

We offer a complete, in-house approach to custom sportswear—combining design, material expertise, manufacturing, and finishing under one streamlined process.

In-House Designing

Our in-house design team transforms ideas into clear, production-ready concepts. Every detail—from colors to placement—is carefully refined to ensure accuracy, consistency, and a strong brand identity. Our process gives us and our clients the results that we need.

01. Concept & Direction

We start by understanding your brand, inspiration, and requirements to define a clear creative direction.

02. Color Matching

Initial concepts are created using advanced tools and AI-assisted workflows, allowing us to explore multiple variations efficiently.

03. Refinement & Detailing

Designs are refined with precise adjustments in patterns, placements, and proportions to achieve a balanced final look.

04. Production Readiness

Final files are prepared to meet manufacturing standards, ensuring a smooth transition from design to production.

Services

We offer a complete, in-house approach to custom sportswear—combining design, material expertise, manufacturing, and finishing under one streamlined process.

Fabrication

We source and prepare high-quality fabrics tailored for performance, comfort, and durability. Each material is selected to ensure consistency and a premium finish across every product.

01. Material Selection

We choose fabrics based on use-case, including interlock, polyester, fleece, and specialized blends suited for different sports.

02. Performance Matching

Each material is evaluated for breathability, stretch, weight, and durability to match the intended function of the apparel.

03. Color & Consistency Check

Fabrics are checked for color accuracy and consistency to ensure they align with the approved design.

04. Production Readiness

Materials are processed and prepared for production, ensuring smooth handling during cutting and manufacturing.
